Through These Doors

In the course of the three years that students spend within the walls of WFSH many doors are opened and closed. The first door all of us came through was the stately, pillared entrance. Then we were just eager unknowing sophomores, little imagining what there was in store for us beyond the beckoning corridors. Since that first time, many doors have been left behind us. Those which once were strange and foreboding are now friendly and inviting and have opened new lives for us. They have shown us the way to knowledge and better understandings. Behind these wooden panels we have found new friends, have experienced some triumphs and have tasted the bitterness of failure and disappointment. Here we have met wonderful teachers whose skillful hands have had so much to do in molding the course of our lives. Through these doors have come daily the future scientists, doctors, lawyers, housewives, secretaries, teachers, ministers — some of all interests, hopes and aspirations, each one receiving daily his or her portion of necessary basic training.

It will be a long time before the familiar doors of our school are pushed into the remote recesses of our memories. Always whenever we are reminded of WFSH, we will remember the friendly doors leading into the building, the office, the cafeteria, the band room and the various classes where we gathered for three of the best and most unforgettable years of our lives.

Through the pages of this yearbook, the 1953 Coyote Staff has tried to picture vividly the part the familiar doors of WFSH play in our lives.

If many years after graduation you can thumb through the pages of this annual and recollect easier the familiar places in WFSH, then the purpose of our theme will have been accomplished. . . .

Dedication

It would be a dull life, indeed, here at Senior High School, if reading, writing and arithmetic were the only available courses. Today, many years since the doors were first opened in 1924, new and varied types of studies are selected by the students. Even with these modern subjects, that tend to add color and value to our curriculum, school-life at WFHS would seem desolate if all clubs, councils, societies and other extracurricular activities were removed.

Most students fail to realize what would be missed if suddenly these organizations were gone; therefore those persons who make these activities possible are often left with little or no gratitude for their efforts. Because these faculty members have been neglected and seemingly overlooked for their direction of these activities and because the Staff feels that these teachers should be encouraged to continue devoting time so that all students may enjoy a fuller, richer high school life, we sincerely and gratefully dedicate this 1953 Coyote to all sponsors of clubs, councils, societies, leagues, and publications, and particularly to our principal, Mr. O. T. Freeman, who has always worked as an adviser with each of the individual sponsors.

Scholastic Standing

The different departments of this school have a variety of interesting subjects awaiting the exploring minds of some seventeen hundred scholars.

No doubt the largest enrollment in any subject in WFSH is English. Four years are required for graduation because learning the use of English is the most important factor in developing the talents of any student regardless of the profession he may enter. This department sponsors the Coyote News and the Coyote yearbook.

The social studies department provides students with a knowledge of government which will be a benefit to them in a government career, or it will help them to become useful citizens.

In the mathematics department are courses necessary for students desiring to become scientists, astronomers, physicists, engineers and architects. In other fields, too, math plays a big part. Spanish and Latin comprise the language studies of this school. Each is important in its own particular way. Because of our small world and our friendliness with Spanish-speaking countries, Spanish is valuable. Latin is important because it gives background preparation for future doctors, lawyers, linguists and pharmacists. Not to be overlooked is WFSH's excellent art department, where a student may lay a foundation for a career in advertising, ceramics, painting, textile design, interior design and industrial design. Our music department in both vocal and instrumental training is rated high in the state. The choirs are well-known in this city's service clubs and in contest tournaments. The Coyote Band is popular for its performances in parades and at half-time activities of football games.

Learning to speak correctly is just one of the things emphasized in WFSH's speech department. Courses are offered in debate, radio, dramatics and platform speaking, vital subjects for many students whose chosen careers call for good speaking.

WFSH prides itself in having a curriculum filled with practical electives. Among these is the home economics department which teaches girls to cook, sew and prepare themselves for later years in their own homes.

The business courses in the commercial department, typewriting, shorthand and bookkeeping, aid students planning secretarial or general office work. Not to be overlooked are this school's part-time training programs which work effectively through distributive education and diversified occupations courses. Two very helpful electives are shop and mechanical drawing, providing training for boys regardless of their planned careers. In this field is stagecraft, a class which supplies the sets for the dramatic productions and social events.

The Reserve Officer Training Corps, now in its second year, is fast gaining a position of importance among the other activities.

Snider Library with ninety-nine periodical subscriptions and over 12,000 volumes on the shelves is one of the big reasons for WFSH's high scholastic standing. The study halls provide students free periods of preparation and opportunity to use the library.

Healthful student activities are provided through the girls' and boys' physical education departments. Their importance is shown by the fact that three years' credit is required for graduation. With the completion of the new gym this part of WFSH's school life will be much more important.

With this wide choice of courses directed by an excellent faculty, there is good reason for Wichita Falls Senior High School's good scholastic rating.

President, Johnny Thorn; Vice-President, Ben Harvey; Secretary, Marcia Ballard; Reporter, Paula Thomas; Treasurer, Johnny Atkins; Point Secretary, Sara Pullen.

The Senior Student Sponsors, an organization directed by Miss Helen Grace Gould, has for its purpose helping all new students become adjusted in our school. This group promotes various activities throughout the year to encourage friendships among the students. Noteworthy among these efforts are the orientation meeting before school begins; Howdy Week; and presentation of the Sophomore Ball.

A friendly welcome to WFSH is given a sophomore by Johnny Thorn.

'953 Coyote Staff

All members of the Coyote Staff are assigned to special duties on the yearbook, but they work in any section where they are needed. It is this combined teamwork which enabled the staff to meet all of its deadlines. Except for photography in the class, football and favorite sections, all photography, art, layouts and editorial work has been done by members of the Coyote Annual Staff.

Ben Harvey, Mary Lynn Harper, Reecie Donegan, Frank Driskill, Shirley Rice, Barbara Calhoun, and Gayle Burkett are admiring their finished product.

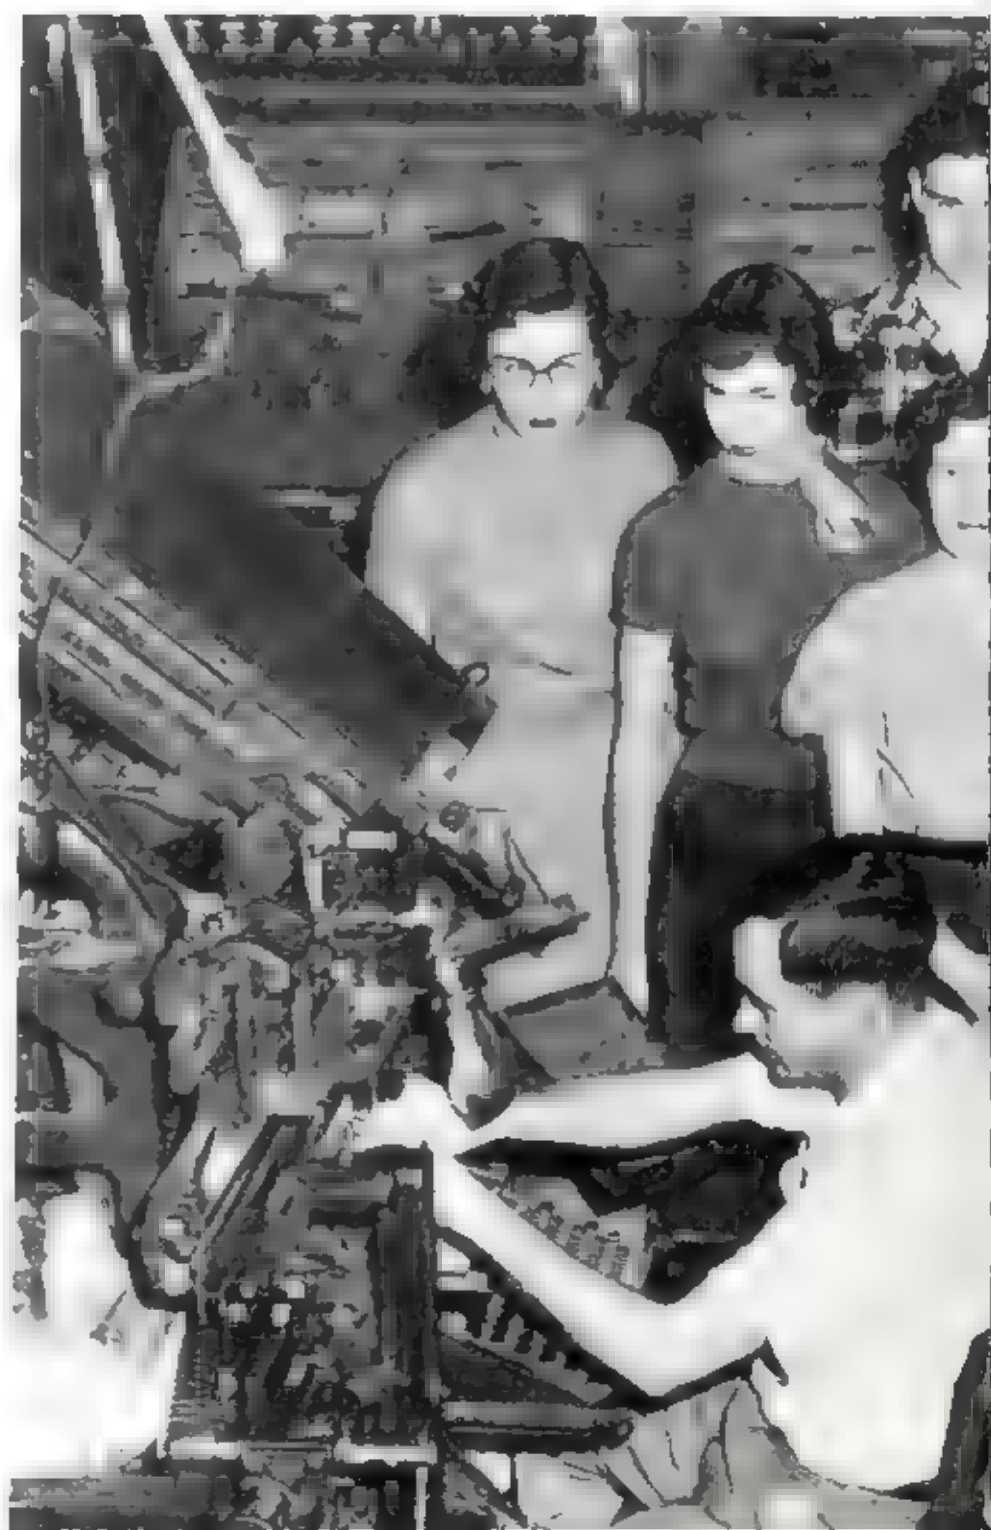

Sponsored by the Department of English, The Coyote News is one of WFSH's valued activities. All staff writers are seniors, who have been recommended by their teachers of English near the end of the junior year. The advertising staff has the all-important task of securing ads, and the circulation staff distributes the "News" to the student subscribers.

Carolyn Cheshire, Jeannie Crooks, Allen Wylton, Bob McDonald, Guy Riggs, Ann Downinists, prepare to watch the presses roll.

Bob Long, Carole Good, Paula Thomas and Freddie Penn must type and retype the stories.

Tom Vickery, Lillian Pangle, Jan Ann Lawson and Carol Duke are working to meet the deadline!

Oscar

At the beginning of football season, students were given the opportunity to choose a name for the new mascot of the Coyote football team. After much consideration of various homeroom suggestions, Oscar was finally chosen. Because of the Coyotes' habit of bringing home high honors and because the "Oscar" stands for high award in Hollywood, it seems to be an appropriate dubbing. Oscar, who belongs to Reagan Junior High brothers, Charles and Johnny Juluson, is the first mascot the football team has had in years.

Football Coaches

This year the football coaches have done well in turning out a great football team. The staff feels that this year's team is one of their finest productions.

The head coach, Joe Golding, first entered the portals of WFSH in 1945. Coach Golding's ability to train his players to be clean players as well as great athletes has made him admired by all.

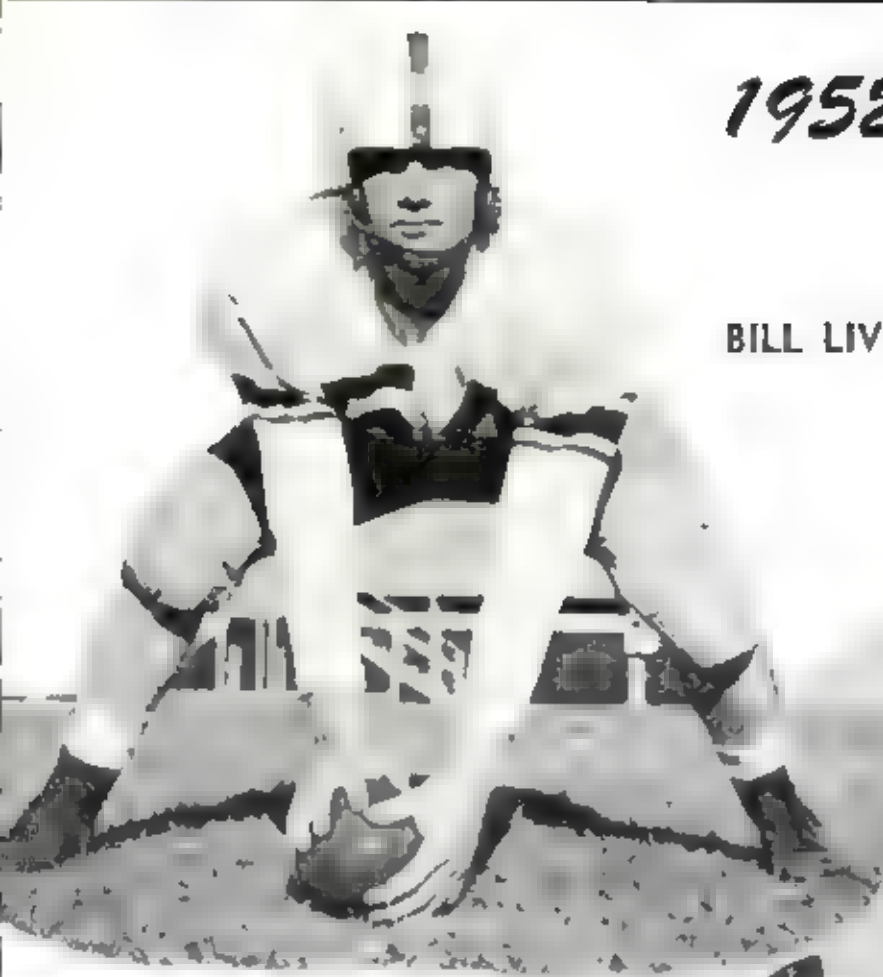

Perry Goolsby is a tireless coach, who is respected by all who play the game under him. He came to the coaching staff in 1949.

Hunter Kirkpatrick came to WFSH in 1947, and his abilities as line coach have greatly aided each team he has coached to develop good defensive tactics.

Wichita Falls' unbeaten Coyotes rolled to their ninth consecutive victory and took a stranglehold on District 4A-5 honors here tonight as they mered out a 13-0 victory over a dogged Tyler outfit. The Pack cinched a playoff berth for the Pack. The Pack forged two successful scoring drives for off markers, and had a brilliant 40-yard punt return third tally nullified by a clipping penalty.

Tyler, victor over Highland Park in its only other 4A-5 counter—and winner in seven of eight previous games, never penetrated deeper than the Coyotes' 37 yard line. That occurred on a fourth down try.

Wichita Falls, displaying razor-sharp blocking in the line, de swatches in the line defense.

You can swap the Lubbock Westerners, the Corpus Christi Ray Texans and Baytown Ganders around almost anywhere in the Big Four ratings but you can't move the Wichita Falls Coyotes out of top place supremacy, according to the Wichita Falls Record News' third weekly statewide ratings compiled by the members of the sports staff.

The Coyotes—firmly entrenched in the No. 1 spot since Lubbock edged out a meager 7-0 win over Waco two weeks ago—still rate in top position because of such impressive wins over Vernon (27-6

The Wildcats edged Baytown 13-13, Friday night in the finale of the week. Associated Press sports writers rate the Wildcats as the top Texas school football team.

The only new face to show in the week's honor group was Waco, chosen after a 14-7 victory over Abilene. The Record News' 1961

1952 Rowdies

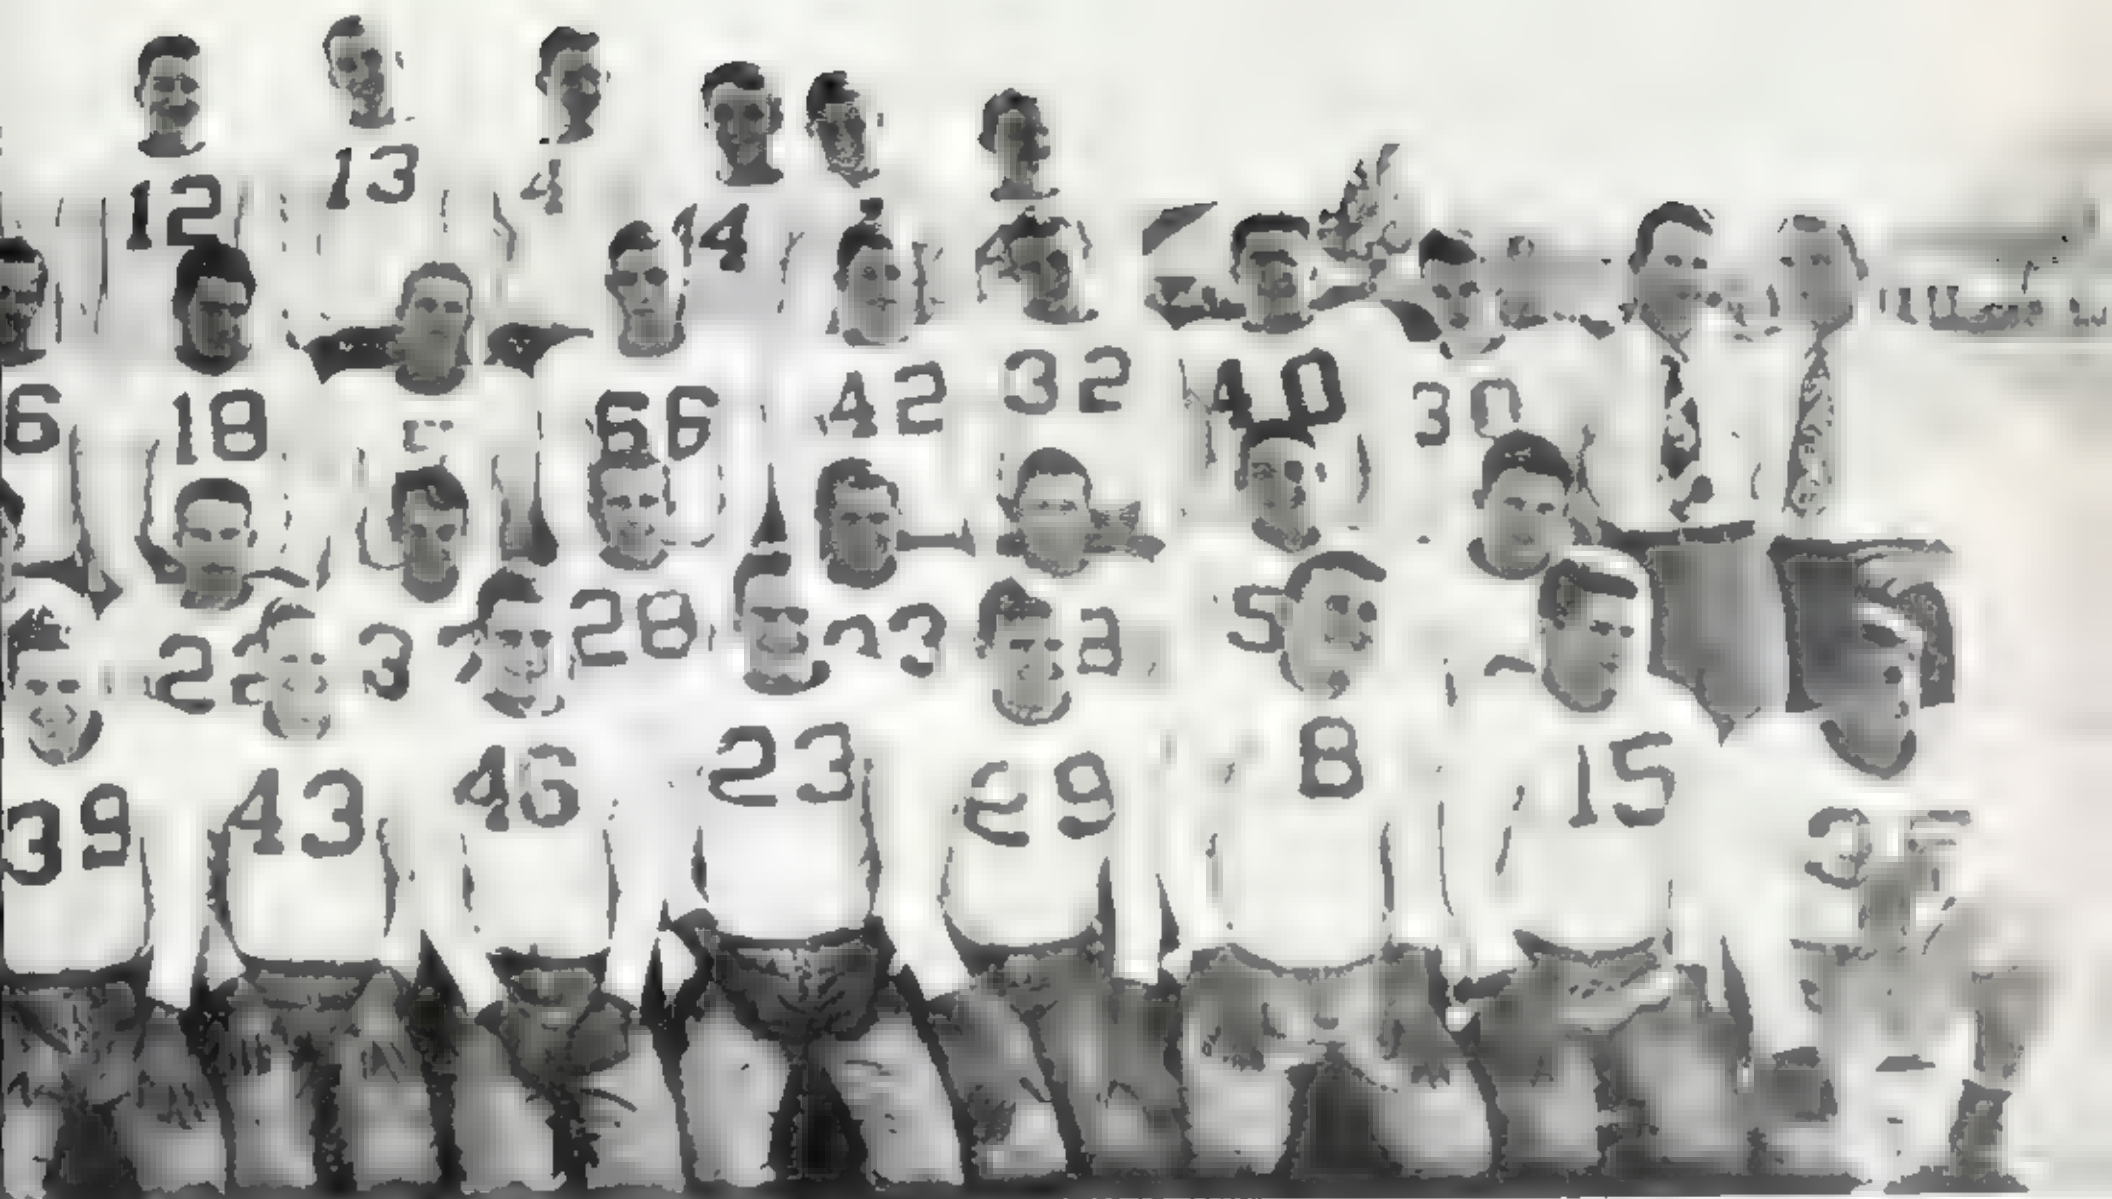

Each year the Rowdie team is made up of junior high graduates, who are seeking berths on the Coyotes. This year the Rowdies won 3 out of 9 games, but they played against major teams. The spirit and hustle of the Rowdie team makes everyone on it a real contender for a Coyote berth.

Senior High is pleased to have such fine coaches for the Rowdies. For two years Bill Carter has been head coach. His assistants, Mack Keck and Joe Reed, have been doing a great job helping him. WFSH is indeed lucky to have such fine coaches.

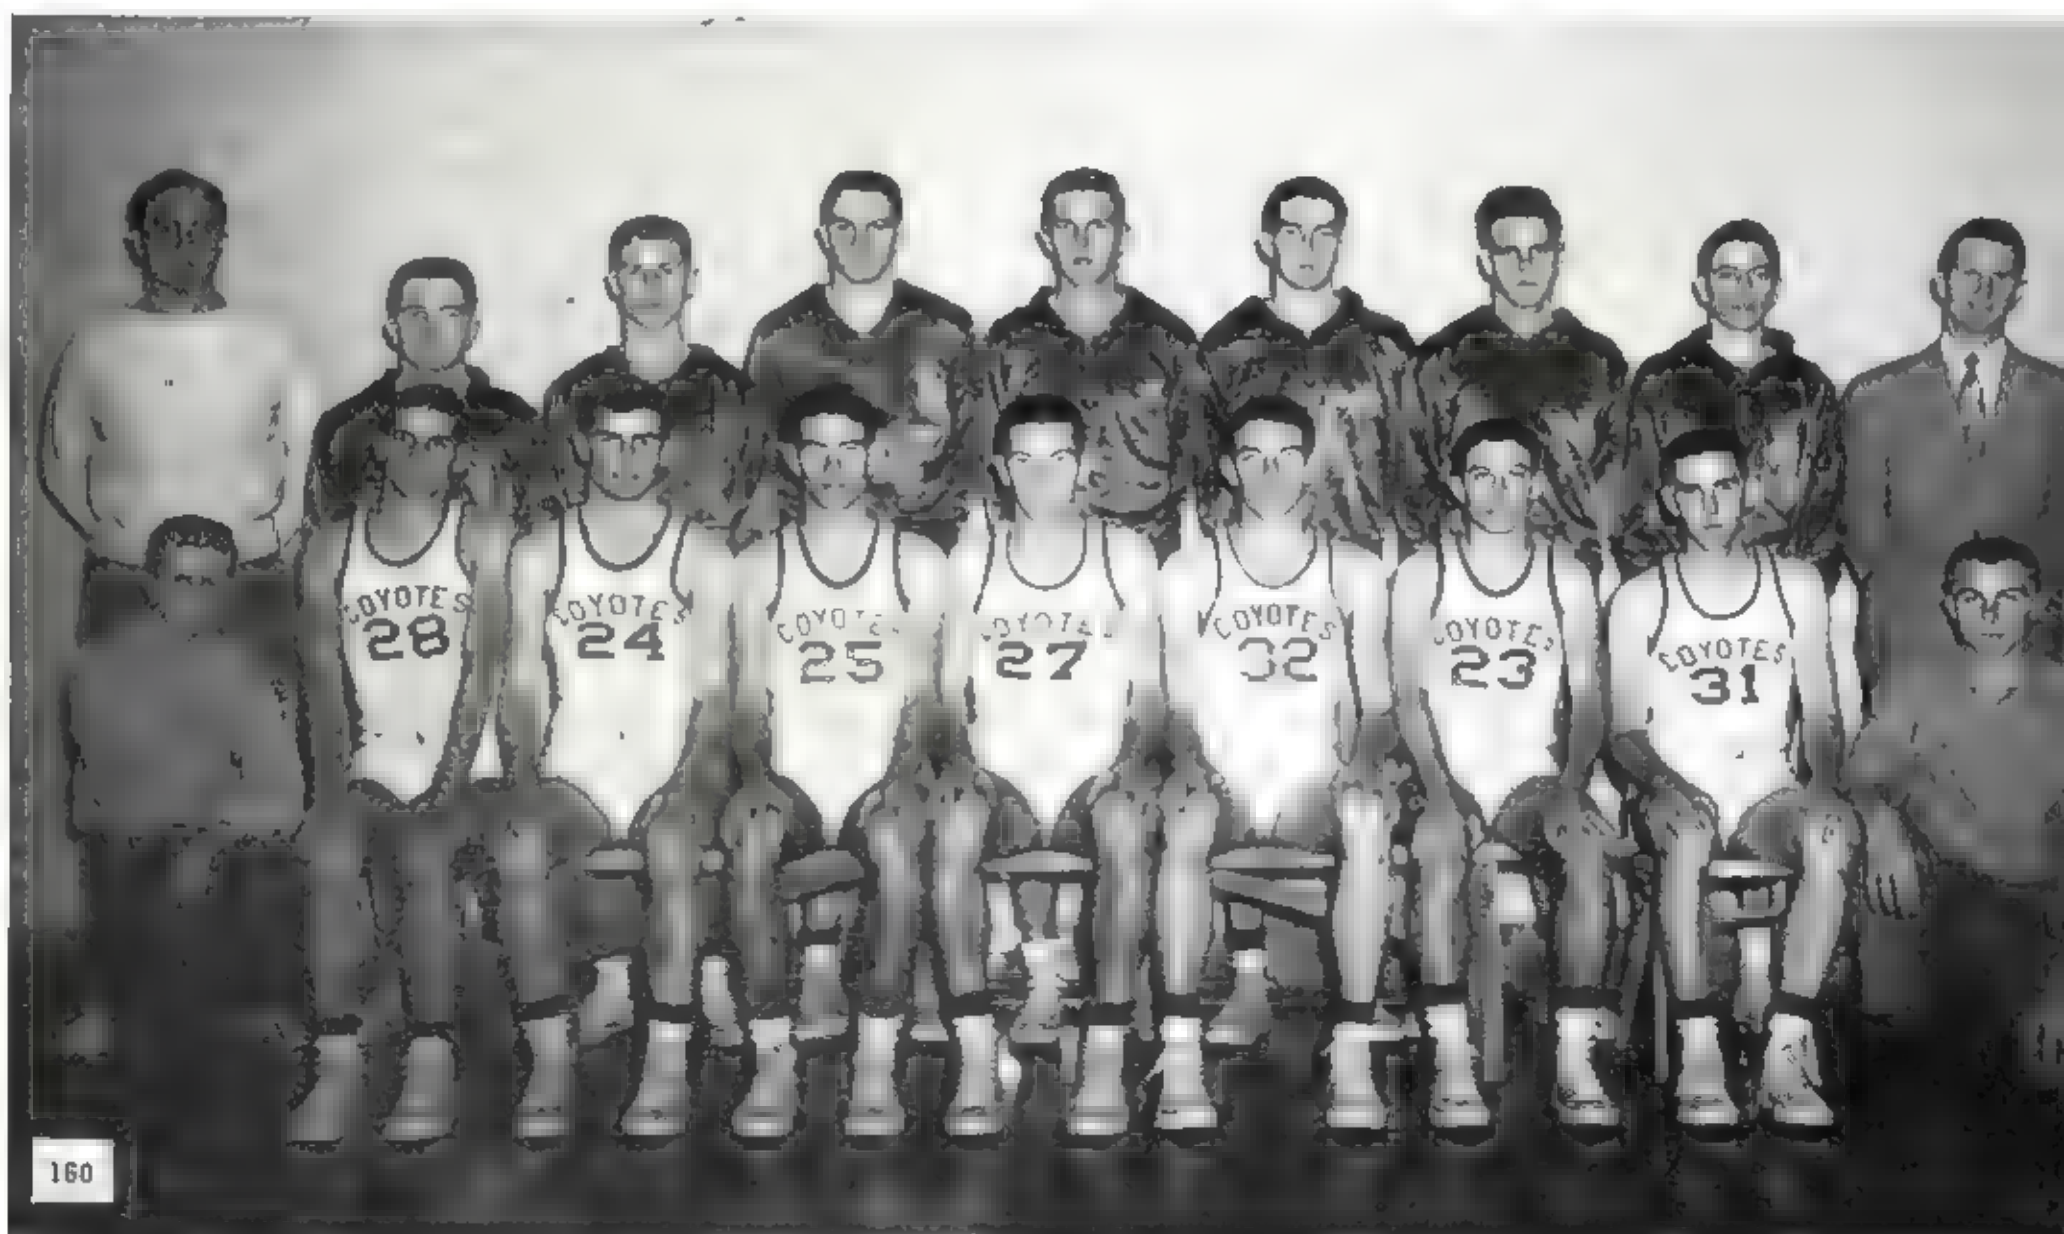

Serving their second year as basketball coaches, Mr. Goalsby and Mr. Carter did a tremendous job. The sports section sends its sincere appreciation and congratulations on a very successful season. Many fans found the exciting games, such as the Highland Park tilt, a real tonic.

Coach Charles W. (Chuck) Avera, serving his first year as tennis mentor, has to his credit a very successful season. His team has won many trophies and medals as well as state wide acclaim. Coach Avera, who came from Lawton, Oklahoma, has won the respect and friendship of all team members. All who know him realize that his untiring effort has brought the team victories in many tournaments.

The team has enjoyed for the first time this year six of the best concrete courts in North Texas. These were obtained through the efforts of Dr. W. L. Powers, who was state doubles champion as a student in WFSH and now a member of the board of education athletic committee. With a new coach and new courts WFSH will soon be known as a tennis power in the area.

Miss Annie Jo Deupree, who is the girl's tennis coach, has achieved an amazing amount of success with the relatively inexperienced girls. Her team has pulled many stunning upsets and won some fine matches. Miss Deupree has aroused a great amount of interest among the girls. Girls' tennis should again gain the prominence it deserves.

Our appreciation goes to Mr. Garland and his golf team for doing a splendid job of representing WFHS.
